

The Process

Our initial survey is free and will give us a quick understanding of any building and its potential for energy efficiency improvements. Our confidence to then guarantee the energy savings comes from our Detailed Engineering Survey of the whole facility.

The DES Agreement will confirm the objectives and cost of the Detailed Engineering Survey as well as to outline any cost guidelines for the eventual EPG Agreement

During the Installation and Operation phases our energy division will install, maintain and manage the various recommended upgrades to ensure the energy savings that will pay for the whole scheme.

Our client can walk away from any proposals we make at any time, incurring only the cost of the DES if completed. And once an EPG is agreed all savings can be independently verified to international standards
